Chapter 1- Introduction to Capital Market

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the:

- Structure of the capital market
- Products available in the Indian securities market
- Participants in the Indian securities market
- Role of different regulators of the market

In this chapter, the structure of the Indian Capital Market, the different products available in the securities market, various participants and the role of different regulators of the market will be discussed in brief to give an overview of the capital market in India.

Introduction to Capital Market

Capital Markets play a very important role in the development of the economy. It helps in allocating the unutilized resources i.e. transfer of funds from savers to its efficient users. It provides channels for allocation of savings to investments. They consist of investors, who are the backbone of the economy, issuers, regulatory bodies and intermediaries. The movement of capital in the economy from the savings pool to the investment pool is performed by two main platforms of institutional intervention – (a) Financial institution and banking framework and (b) the capital market framework. The capital market plays the primary role of a facilitator and an intermediary in raising capital and deployment of the same in the economy.

Capital Market

Capital Market provides a platform for the issuers and the investors to come together. It helps the issuers to raise capital for productive deployment in creating economic wealth. At the same time, the capital market offers investment avenues to investors with appetite for higher risks and returns as compared to savings in bank deposits. Capital Market is further divided into the Primary Market and Secondary Market whereas Money Market is classified into Organized Money Market and Unorganized Money Market.

Primary Market is the new issue market, which provides opportunity to issuers of securities, Government as well as corporates, to raise resources to meet their requirements of investments and/or discharge some obligation. If securities are allotted to the public for the first time for the purpose of listing, it is called Initial Public Offer (IPO). Once the securities are listed on the Stock Exchanges, the same shares traded will be on the secondary market, between investors themselves. If securities are already listed and the issuer company wants to issue further class of securities to the investors again, it is called Further Public Offer (FPO).

Secondary Market helps in providing liquidity to the securities which has already been issued in the primary market. In this market, an investor liquidates his own investments. Since the securities are traded on the stock exchange and the transactions are between two investors, the issuer does not come into picture. Secondary Markets operate through two mediums, namely, the Over-The-Counter (OTC) market and the Exchange Traded Market. OTC markets are the informal type of markets where trades are negotiated. In this type of market, the securities are traded and settled bilaterally over the counter. The other option of trading is through the stock exchange route, where trading and settlement is done through the stock exchanges and the buyers and sellers may not be in touch with each other. The transaction is carried out through SEBI registered stock brokers and/or authorised persons.

Money market is a market for financial assets that are close substitutes for money. It is typically a market for short term funds. The money market deals primarily in securities, such as banker's acceptances, negotiable certificates of deposit (CDs), repos and Treasury Bills (T-bills), call/notice money market and commercial paper.

Products in Indian Securities Market

Indian securities markets cover a wide range of products depending upon the risk appetite of the investors. For example, if an investor wants to invest in risky products he has the option to invest in products of the equity market, whereas a risk-averse investor can invest in bond markets which are comparatively less risky. Product portfolio of Indian securities markets can be broadly classified into 3 categories:

- a) Equity Market Products
- b) Derivative Market Products
- c) Debt Market Products

- a) Equity Market Products: The equity segment of the stock exchange allows trading in equity shares, convertibles, warrants, mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs).

Equity Shares represent a form of fractional ownership in a business venture. Equity shareholders collectively own the company and also bear the risk and enjoy the rewards of ownership.

Preference Shares represent economic interest that has a superior right as compared to equity shares. Preference shareholders have first preference to receive dividends and return of their capital. Preference shares are therefore paid a fixed rate of dividend and are redeemable within a time period not exceeding 20 years.

Convertibles are instruments that can be converted into equity shares of the issuer company. Convertibles can be issued in the form of debt instruments such as fully or partly convertible debentures or bonds. The conversion can also be structured as mandatory or at the option of the investor. Depending on the conversion features, these instruments are known as Fully Convertible Debentures (FCDs), OFCDs (optional FCDs) and PCDs (Partly Convertible Debentures). Convertibles can also be structured through preference shares in which case they would be known as CPS (Convertible Preference Share) or CCPS (Cumulative CPS including dividend payable).

Warrants entitle an investor to buy equity shares after a specified time period at a given price. Warrants provide the right but not the obligation to purchase shares or other securities in the company. If the warrant is not exercised, the investor stands to lose the amount paid on acquisition of the warrant.

Mutual Funds pool money from numerous investors who wish to save or make investments having similar investment objectives. The Mutual Fund invests in different types of funds in consonance with the investment objectives. A mutual fund company pools money from many investors and invests the money in stocks, bonds, short-term money-market instruments, other securities or assets, or some combination of these investments, depending on the objectives of the fund. There are funds which invest in equities, better known as equity MF schemes which are considered riskier than debt mutual funds.

Exchange Traded Fund is a fund that can invest in either all of the securities or a representative sample of securities included in the index. Importantly, the ETFs offer a one-stop exposure to a diversified basket of securities that can be traded in real time like individual stock example gold exchange traded fund.

- b) Derivative Market Products: Derivative is a product whose value is derived from the value of one or more basic variables, called bases (underlying asset, index, or reference rate), in a contractual manner. The underlying asset can be equity, forex, commodity or any other asset. The derivatives segment in India allows trading in the equities, currency and commodities. There are two types of derivatives instruments viz., Futures and Options that are traded on the Indian stock exchanges.

Index/Stock Future is an agreement between two parties to buy or sell an asset at a certain time in the future at a certain price. Futures contracts are special types of forward contracts in the sense that the former are standardized exchange-traded contracts. Futures contracts are available on certain specified stocks and indices.

Index/Stock Options are of two types - calls and puts. Calls give the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy a given quantity of the underlying asset, at a given price on or before a given future date. Puts give the seller the right, but not the obligation, to sell a given quantity of the underlying asset at a given price on or before a given date.

Currency Derivatives trading was introduced in the Indian financial markets with the launch of currency futures trading in the USD-INR pair on the National Stock Exchange of India Limited (NSEIL) on August 29, 2008. Few more currency pairs have also been introduced thereafter. Currently in India, currency futures contracts are traded on four INR pairs i.e., USDINR, EURINR, GBPINR and JPYINR and on three cross currency pairs i.e., EURUSD, GBPUSD and USDJPY on the recognized stock exchanges.

Commodity Derivatives markets are markets where raw or primary products are exchanged. These raw commodities are traded on regulated commodities exchanges, in which they are bought and sold on the basis of standardized contracts for a specified future date. Commodity markets facilitate the trading of commodities such as gold, silver and various agricultural goods.

Interest Rate Futures trading is based on notional 10-year coupon bearing Government of India (GOI) security. These contracts are settled by physical delivery of deliverable grade securities using electronic book entry system of the existing depository's viz., NSDL and CDSL and the Public Debt Office of the Reserve Bank unlike the cash settlement of the other derivative products.

- c) Debt Market Products: Debt market consists of Bond markets, which provide financing through the issuance of debentures and bonds, and enable the subsequent trading thereof. These instruments can be traded in OTC or Exchange traded markets. In India, the debt market is broadly divided into government securities (G-Sec) market and the corporate bond market.

Government Securities Market: The Government needs enormous amount of money and one of the important sources of borrowing funds is the government securities market. The government raises short term and long term funds by issuing securities. These securities do not carry default risk as the government guarantees the payment of interest and the repayment of principal. They are therefore referred to as gilt edged securities. Government securities are issued by the central government, state government and semi-government authorities. The major investors in this market are banks, insurance companies, provident funds, state governments, FPIs. Government securities are of two types- treasury bills and government dated securities.

Corporate Bond Market: Corporate bonds are bonds issued by firms, corporate and are issued to meet needs for expansion, modernization, restructuring operations, mergers and acquisitions. The corporate bond/debt market is a market wherein debt securities of corporates are issued and traded therein. The investors in this market are banks, financial institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds, FPIs etc. Corporates adopt either the public offering route or the private placement route for issuing debentures/bonds. Debentures and bonds are pure debt instruments that carry a periodic interest payment (called 'coupon') or a cumulated terminal payment without any periodic interest (called 'zero coupon'). These instruments are redeemed by repayment of the principal amount as per stated terms of issue. Since these instruments need to be repaid by the issuer company, these are usually secured against assets of the company or other collaterals. They are also rated by one or more independent credit rating agencies, especially if they are issued through public offers.

Some of the other instruments available for trading in the debt segment are money market instruments such as Treasury Bills, Commercial Papers and Certificate of Deposits.

Participants in Indian Securities Market

There are different participants who play an important role in the securities market. Entities develop, issue, register and sell securities for the purpose of financing their operations. There are people who invest in these securities and there are some entities that provide the service of intermediation. Some of them are discussed here:

- i. Issuer means any company/corporate making an offer of securities. They are the persons who actually approach the market stating their specific objectives and collect funds from the general public by offering securities.
- ii. Investors are the persons who actually invest their funds in the securities offered by the issuer. They are broadly categorised as Retail Investors, Institutional Investors and Non-Institutional Investors. Investors investing upto Rs. Two lakh in a single public issue transaction is termed as Retail investors, whereas institutional investors comprise of domestic financial institution, mutual funds, FPIs etc commonly known as Qualified Institutional Buyers (QIBs).¹
- iii. Intermediaries: There are many intermediaries in the Indian securities market. As per the SEBI Act, 1992, intermediaries include stock brokers, share transfer agents, bankers to an issue, self-certified syndicate bank (SCSBs), trustees of trust deeds, registrars to an issue, merchant bankers, underwriters, portfolio managers, investment advisers, mutual funds and such other intermediaries who may be associated with securities markets in any manner, depositories, depository participants, custodians of securities, credit rating agencies and such other intermediaries as SEBI may, by notification, specify in this behalf. Some of them are discussed below:
 - Stock Brokers: Stock brokers have been defined as a member of a stock exchange. Stock Brokers are the members of the Stock Exchange and can either be individuals or corporate. They give their advice and recommendations relating to investment opportunities to their clients. Their clients may be retail investors or institutional clients and they execute the trade on their client's behalf on the exchange. Further, SEBI has discontinued the category of sub-broker as a market intermediary and they have been migrated to a category known as Authorized Person and/or Trading member. Authorised Person or "AP" means a person –individual, partnership firm, LLP or body corporate – who is appointed by a stock broker (including trading member) and who provides access to trading platform of a stock exchange as an agent of the stock broker.
 - Custodians: mean any person who carries on or proposes to carry on the business of providing custodial services. Custodial services include safekeeping of the securities. A ¹CBDT vide Notification No. 59/2015 dated 6th July, 2015 has stated that for the purpose of issue of tax-free, secured, redeemable, and non-convertible bonds, Retail individual Investors means those individual investors, Hindu Undivided Family (through Karta), and Non Resident Indians (NRIs), on repatriation as well as non-repatriation basis, applying for upto Rupees Ten lakhs in each issue and individual investors investing more than Rupees Ten lakhs shall be classified as High Net Worth Individuals.

Custodian is an entity that helps safeguard the securities of its clients. Custodians may also be clearing members like Professional Clearing Members (PCMs) but not trading members. They settle trades on behalf of the clients of the trading members, when a particular trade is assigned to them for settlement.

- Depositories: means a depository as defined in clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Depositories Act, 1996. Depositories offer various services to their clients, however, the principal function is to provide a facility for investors to hold and transfer securities in dematerialised form. Through a system of paperless securities, depositories have made the going easier to other institutions as well such as Stock Exchanges and its clearing houses, stock broking firms, issuing companies, share transfer agents etc. Currently there are two Depositories in India, Central Depository Services Limited (CDSL) and National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL).
- Depository Participants (DPs): Depository Participant means a person registered as a participant with the SEBI. The Depository provides its services to clients through its agents called depository participants. These agents are appointed by the depository with the approval of SEBI. According to SEBI regulations, amongst others, three categories of entities, i.e. Banks, Financial Institutions and body corporate engaged in providing financial services provided certain conditions are fulfilled can become DPs.
- Merchant Bankers: means any entity who is engaged in the business of issue management either by making arrangements regarding selling, buying or subscribing to securities or acting as manager, consultant, adviser or rendering corporate advisory service in relation to such issue management. They need to be registered with SEBI to act and perform as Merchant Banker. They perform a variety of activities including managing capital issues, managing individual funds and advising clients on proper valuation of securities and often the underwriting of issues. Other market participants such as money-market dealers, commercial banks and financial institutions, share brokers and investment funds may also obtain separate registration as Merchant Bankers. Merchant Banks are also involved in conducting due diligence in connection with public offers as also being responsible in compliance matters under SEBI Regulations. Merchant Banks are also eligible to conduct valuation of securities and provide independent opinions for regulatory requirements under SEBI Regulations.
- Registrars and Transfer Agents: Registrars to an issue are entities, who on behalf of any Body Corporate collect applications from investors in respect of an issue, keep proper record of applications and monies received from investors and assists body corporate to determine basis of allotment, process and despatch allotment letters, refund orders or certificates in respect of an issue. Share transfer agents maintain the record of holders of securities issued by such body corporate and deal with all matters connected with the transfer and redemption of its securities. Share transfer agent can also be a department or division (by whatever name called) of a body corporate performing the above activities if, at any time the total number of the holders of securities issued exceed one lakh.

- Self - Certified Syndicated Bank (SCSBs): SCSBs are Banker to an Issue registered with the SEBI, which offers the facility of Application Supported by Blocked Amount.

In addition to the Self Certified Syndicate Banks (SCSBs), Syndicate Members and Registered Brokers of Stock exchanges, the Registrars to an Issue and share transfer Agents (RTAs) and Depository Participants (DPs) registered with SEBI are also permitted to accept application forms (both physical as well as online) in public issues.

Regulators in Indian Securities Market

In order to have effective functioning and proper development of the market, there is a need for a regulator. Amongst other tasks, the first and foremost task of the regulator would be to protect the interest of investors and to ensure that there is no violation of rules and regulations. In India, securities markets are regulated by different regulators and hence there may be instances where there is a regulatory overlap.

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) is the securities market regulator². As per SEBI Act 1992, it is “responsible for protecting the interests of investors in securities and to promote the development of, and to regulate the securities market and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto”. It also regulates the issue of new securities, has the power to make rules for regulating the stock exchange, provides license to dealers and brokers and deals with frauds and inconsistencies in the capital market.

The money market which deals with bonds and deposits is regulated by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). It looks at the macroeconomic conditions and decides the rate of interest to be paid on government securities as well as important factors like the Statutory Lending Ratio (SLR) and the Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR). It works with the Government to balance the growth of the country with factors such as inflation, current account deficits and the exchange rates of the rupee vis-à-vis the global currencies.

Ministry of Company Affairs (MCA) through the Registrar of Companies regulates the Corporate Sector. The Ministry is primarily concerned with administration of the Companies Act, 2013, other allied Acts and rules & regulations framed there-under mainly for regulating the functioning of the corporate sector in accordance with law. The Ministry is also responsible for administering the Competition Act, 2002 though regulatory orders in individual cases are passed by the Competition Commission of India.

Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) is the watchdog for the insurance sector. Its mission is “to protect the interests of the policyholders, to regulate, promote ²SEBI regulates Commodity derivatives which is included in the definition of derivatives under the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956. Commodity derivatives have been defined in the Act. SEBI has also introduced options trading in commodity futures also.

and ensure orderly growth of the insurance industry and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto”. It regulates the insurance and re-insurance business and has the mandate to register new insurance issuers, deal with issues of policyholders and to specify the code of conduct of the insurance business.

Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA) is mandated to regulate the pension sector in India. It was formed through the PFRDA Act of 2003. It is responsible for carrying out the Government of India’s effort to find a sustainable solution to providing adequate retirement income to the citizens. Since 2008, the pension contributions of the central government employees are being invested by professional pension fund managers in accordance with Government of India guidelines, under the regulation of the PFRDA.

Ministry of Finance (MOF) works through the Reserve Bank of India to regulate the securities market to the extent of investments into India by foreign or Non-Resident Indian investors. Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 came into force in 2000. The Act along with the Regulations and Rules thereunder specify the conditions to be fulfilled and the compliances to be made for investment into India.

All the authorities have an interrelation with each other. For example: If a company is issuing equity shares in the securities market for the first time, the company has to comply with the provisions of the Companies Act which falls within the purview of the MCA and the offices of the Registrar of Companies and the Regional Directors under the MCA. The issue process is regulated under SEBI Regulations. Apart from this, if the issue is subscribed to, by the foreign investors or Non-resident Indians, such investments will be subject to the RBI regulations as well. Further, if a company is a bank or an insurance company, it is primarily regulated by RBI or IRDAI respectively, once the company decides to come with an IPO and lists its shares, thereafter, it also comes within the jurisdiction of SEBI as a listed company.

Role of Investment Banker in Private Equity

Investment bankers are usually appointed by companies seeking to raise capital through private equity sources such as venture capital funds and later stage private equity funds. Such transactions may also include investors seeking to sell their existing stakes in companies to other private equity investors. In such transactions, investment banker’s role is primarily of an advisory nature to assist the company or the investor from the sell side. The investment banker plays a key role in identifying the buy side investors and thereafter conducting the whole deal process till the transaction is culminated successfully. More specifically, the following aspects of the investment banker’s role are important -

- Growth Plan Formulation - Advise the company on the arriving at the growth plan and capital investment required so that the necessary financial forecasts can be furnished to the investors. This would require an extensive study of the company’s past performance, growth opportunity, competitor analysis, market trends and other parameters.

- Transaction Structuring – To come up with the correct instrument, quantum of capital to be raised and the capital structure of the company pre and post the proposed transaction.
- Arriving at Pre-Money Valuation – Investment bankers conduct the valuation of the company for the proposed transaction in order to arrive at the sell side pitch to the investors and arrive at the transaction structure. Valuation should be based on established norms for such transactions and meet necessary regulatory pricing requirements for preferential allotments.
- Offer Literature, Data Room Assistance – Investment banks prepare the entire transaction related literature such as the ‘teasers’ or preliminary information memorandum, the detailed information memorandum, financial models for the business forecast and the proposed transaction. They also assist in compilation of the information and documents for preparation of the data room based on which the potential buyers conduct their pre-investment due diligence on the company. The information memorandum should incorporate the necessary corporate disclosures that are required for investors to make an informed investment decision.
- Leading the Transaction – Investment banks handhold the entire transaction from the initial stage till the parties execute definitive agreements to bring the transaction to a close. The process includes conducting meetings, leading negotiations for drawing up the term sheet, ensuring fair valuation for the sellers, co-ordination with the sellers, the company’s team and other agencies such as accounting and legal firms for completion of due diligence, audit and necessary certifications, furnishing of disclosure statements, representations and warranties and execution of documents.

Chapter 2 Introduction to the Merchant Banking

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the:

- Concept and evolution of merchant banking
- Merchant banking scenario in Indian and international market
- Regulatory framework in which the merchant bankers function in India

In the earlier chapter, we have discussed the capital market products and participants in the Indian context. This chapter delves into the evolution of merchant banking, the role of merchant bankers, concept and the regulations governing the activities of merchant banking in Indian context. The merchant banking activities with respect to international markets such as United States and United Kingdom have also been dealt with briefly.

Concept and Evolution of Merchant Banking

Concept of Merchant Banking

The primary activity of Merchant Banks is to provide fee-based advice to corporates and governments on the issue of securities. Merchant banks differ from commercial banks in the sense that they do not take deposits from individuals or businesses. Merchant banks these days perform a variety of other activities such as financing foreign trade, underwriting of equity issues, portfolio management and undertaking foreign security business as well as foreign loan business, project appraisal etc. However, not all merchant banks offer all these services. Since the functions are very similar to those of Investment Bankers, they are often thought to be the same. However, an investment banker will also provide investment advice and deal with securities in secondary market, unlike a pure Merchant Banker. The difference between merchant banking and investment banking has been highlighted in the following section.

Difference between Merchant Banking and Investment Banking

There is a fine line of distinction between Merchant Banking and Investment Banking, which we try to highlight in this section. ‘Merchant Banking’ as the term suggests, is the function of intermediation in the capital market. It helps issuers to raise capital by placement of securities issued by the issuers with investors. The merchant banker has an onerous responsibility towards the investors who invest in such securities. The regulatory authorities require the merchant banking firms to promote quality issues, maintain integrity and ensure compliance with the law on own account and on behalf of the issuers as well. Therefore, merchant banking is a fee based service for management of public offers, popularly known as ‘issue management’ and for private placement of securities in the capital market. In India, the merchant banker leading a public offer is popularly known as the ‘Lead Manager’.

On the other hand, the term ‘Investment Banking’ has a much wider connotation and is gradually becoming more of an inclusive term to refer to all types of capital market activity, both fund-based and non-fund based. This development has been driven more by the way the American investment banks have evolved themselves over the past century. Investment banking encompasses not merely merchant banking but other related capital market activities such as stock trading, market making and underwriting, stock broking and asset management as well. Besides the above, investment banks also provide a host of specialized corporate advisory services in the areas of project advisory, business and financial advisory and mergers and acquisitions.³

Evolution of International Merchant Banking

Merchant banking originated in Italy then came to France in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. In France, a merchant banker was a merchant who added the banking business to his various activities and utilized his accumulated profits better.

Merchant bankers’ activities differed from those of any other ‘money changer’ and involved dealing in bills of exchange with correspondents abroad and speculated on the rate of exchange. Merchant banks flourished in the United Kingdom in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries as England became a rich trading nation. Profits from colonial trade were diverted into merchant banking activities and the chief activity was accepting commercial bills for domestic and international trade.

Investment banks as are called in the United States are one of the most important participants in the US capital market. They help businesses and governments sell their new security issues in the debt or equity markets to raise capital, through primary market transactions. Once the securities are sold, they also create the secondary markets for these securities as brokers and dealers. The Glass-Steagall Act of 1933 differentiated the activities between the commercial banks and investment banks and prevented depositories from underwriting.

The Securities Exchange Act (1934) in the United States sought to correct practices in securities trading with the formation of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC). However, the relaxation of the rules set out in Glass Steagall Act in 1997, led to a wider consolidation in the investment and commercial banking space. Owing to the growing requirements of globalisation and growth of financial markets, the Glass Steagall Act was repealed in 1999 and replaced with a liberal Financial Modernisation Act 1999. After the exponential growth of investment banks in the US during the period 1990- 2007 and the subsequent global financial crisis in 2008, investment banks were brought under tight regulation again with the passage of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act in 2010. The Act sought to regulate investment advisers, derivative markets, functioning of credit rating agencies etc. Specific to investment banking, the Act sought to regulate them by segregating banking from proprietary trading and asset management (through the Volcker's Rule') as well as to provide for regulatory supervision for capital adequacy, quantitative limits and other restrictions.

Merchant Banking in the International Scenario

In this section we would be discussing the merchant banking activity as it is practiced in the different countries such as United Kingdom and the United States.

Merchant Banking in UK

The primary role of the merchant bankers was to discount bills and to provide safety in transactions for merchants going from country to country. Later on, merchant banks diversified into capital issue, advisory as well as management of funds. They also continued the business of financing foreign trade as well as managing funds for themselves and other wealthy merchants. They all showed characteristics such as a short chain of command, sophistication in services and high liquidity. Merchant banks are expected to be more focused on fee income rather than profits from investing funds.

Merchant Banking in USA

In the United States, merchant banks have evolved into investment banks. Along with all the functions of a merchant bank, investment banks also risk their own capital and aim to earn profits from their proprietary trading activities. In the United States, commercial banks and investment banks have been separated in terms of the sources of capital as well as allowed activities.

Merchant Banking in India

The forerunners of merchant banking in India were the foreign banks and they have been created in India in a variety of forms. Nationalized banks have created new subsidiaries to carry out merchant banking activities, other domestic financial institutions have created separate divisions and share brokers and consultancies have registered themselves as public limited companies or partnerships or proprietary firms

Grindlays Bank began merchant banking operations in 1967 with a license obtained from the RBI followed by Citibank in 1970. These two banks were providing services for syndication of loans and raising of equity apart from other advisory services. In 1972, the Banking Commission Report asserted the need for merchant banking services in India to be provided by public sector banks. Based on the Glass Steagall Act of 1933 passed by the US, the commission recommended a separate structure for merchant banks so as to separate them from commercial banks and financial institutions. Following the recommendation of the Banking Commission Report⁴, SBI set up its merchant banking division in 1972.

⁴The Banking Commission Report of 1972 has indicated the necessity of merchant banking service in view of the wide industrial base of the Indian economy. The commission was in favour of a separate institution to render merchant banking services. The

Other banks such as Bank of India, Syndicate Bank, Punjab National Bank, and Canara Bank also followed suit to set up their merchant banking outfits. ICICI was the first financial institution to set up its merchant banking division in 1973. The later entrants were IFCI and IDBI with the latter setting up its merchant banking division in 1992. The post liberalization era (1991 onwards) brought about a marked transformation in the banking arena. The merchant banking industry during those days was mainly driven by the issue management activity which fluctuated with the trends in the primary markets. In order to stabilise their businesses, several of the banks engaged in merchant banking activity diversified to offer a broader spectrum of capital market services.

The bigger investment banks now have several group entities in which the core and non-core business segments are distributed. Some of them such as SBI, IDBI, ICICI, IL&FS, Kotak Mahindra etc. offer almost the entire gamut of investment banking services permitted in India. SBI set up SBI Capital markets in 1986 and ICICI spin off ICICI Securities as a subsidiary in 1995.

From simply providing issue management and capital raising advisory services, merchant banks have expanded into providing for many other services. The growth of Indian industry has given rise to further opportunities in mergers and acquisitions and takeovers. Merchant banks are also working on asset valuation, investment management and promotion of investment trusts.

2.2.1 Role of Association of Investment Bankers of India (AIBI) in Indian Context

The industry body for merchant bankers in India that acts as a self-regulatory organisation is known as the Association of Investment Bankers of India (AIBI). It was founded in 1993 as the Association of Merchant Bankers of India. It was granted recognition by SEBI to set up professional standards, for providing efficient services and to establish standard practices in merchant banking and financial services. AIBI's primary objective is to ensure that its members render services to all constituents within an agreed framework of ethical principles and practices. AIBI also works towards promoting the interests of the industry and of its members.

AIBI is the thought leader and a nodal point for assimilation and dissemination of information relating to the investment banking industry in India. It is also the industry's sole representative to all statutory authorities, and in particular, to SEBI.

Regulatory Framework for Merchant Bankers in India

There are various acts, regulations and guidelines which govern the different activities of Merchant Banking in India. These have been discussed below in brief in two categories – (1) Core Regulation and (2) Support Regulation:

CORE REGULATIONS

commission suggested that they should offer investment management and advisory services particularly to the medium and small savers (Reference: Merchant Banking, Principles and Practice – H R Machiraju, 3rd ed.).

Role of Appellate Authority -Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT)

The Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) has been set up under the SEBI Act, which looks into the appeal of any person who has been aggrieved by any order of SEBI. This section elaborates on the different regulations under the SEBI which discusses the establishment and the role of SAT. Section 15K (1) of the SEBI Act, 1992, empowers the Central Government to establish Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) to exercise jurisdiction, powers and authority under the said act or any other law in force. Further, subject to other provisions of the SEBI Act, 1992, and other rules, the SAT shall have powers to regulate its own procedure.

As per Section 15U (2) of the SEBI Act, 1992, the SAT shall have, for discharging its functions, the same powers as are vested in a civil court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, while trying a suit, in respect of the following matters:

- e) Reviewing its decisions
- f) Dismissing an application for default or deciding it ex-parte
- g) Setting aside any order of dismissal of any application for default or any order passed by it ex-parte
- h) Any other matter which may be prescribed

According to Section 15U (3) of the SEBI Act, 1992, every proceeding before the SAT shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding and SAT shall be deemed to be a civil court. Section 15V states that the appellant may either appear in person or authorize one or more chartered accountants or company secretaries or cost accountants or legal practitioners or any of its officers to present his or its case before the SAT.

Section 15W of the SEBI Act, 1992 states that the provisions of the Limitation Act, 1963 shall apply to an appeal made to a SAT. It gives the central government the regulatory jurisdiction over (a) stock exchanges through a process of recognition and continued supervision, (b) contracts and options in securities, and (c) listing of securities on stock exchanges. The objective of SCRA is to prevent undesirable speculation and to regulate contracts and transactions in securities. A transaction in securities between two persons is essentially a contract. The law that specifically applies in the case of a securities contracts is the SCRA. The Act also provides for the setting up of clearing corporations by stock exchanges for the purpose of performing the functions of clearing and settlement of various trades conducted on the stock exchange. SEBI has been given explicit powers under the Act to make or amend by-laws of any stock exchange.

⁵As per SCRA, derivatives include a security derived from a debt instrument, share, loan, whether secured or unsecured, risk instrument or contract or differences or any other form of security; a contract which derives its value from the prices, or index prices, of underlying securities; commodity derivatives; and such other instruments as may be declared by the Central Government to be derivatives. [Amended by the Finance Act 2021].

Section 17A of the Act stipulated that any issue of securities to the public or listing on a stock exchange shall conform to the regulations prescribed by SEBI. Section 21 and 22 deals with listing of securities, section 21A deals with delisting of securities and sections 23 to 26 provides for the different penalties and procedures to be imposed upon any person / intermediary on non-compliance with any of the provisions given under the various rules and regulations governing the securities market in India.

SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015

Any dealing/trading done by an insider based on information which is not available in public domain, gives an undue advantage to insiders and affects market integrity. This is not in line with the principle of fair and equitable markets. In order to protect integrity of the market, the SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations have been put in place. The Regulations mainly provide for who can be insiders, what all is prohibited for them and the systemic provisions which need to be laid down and followed by listed company as well as intermediaries.

Who are Insiders?

“Insiders” are defined as any person who is, or was, connected with a company or is deemed to have been connected with the company and who is reasonably expected to have access to unpublished price sensitive information (UPSI) in respect of securities of a company, or who has received or has had access to such unpublished price. “Any person who is or has during the six months prior to the concerned act been associated with a company, directly or indirectly, in any capacity including by reason of frequent communication with its officers or by being in any contractual, fiduciary or employment relationship or by being a director, officer or an employee of the company or holds any position including a professional or business relationship between himself and the company whether temporary or permanent, that allows such person, directly or indirectly, access to unpublished price sensitive information or is reasonably expected to allow such access.

Person is deemed to be a connected person, if such person is:

- (a) an immediate relative of connected persons; or
- (b) a holding company or associate company or subsidiary company; or
- (c) an intermediary as specified in section 12 of the SEBI Act or an employee or director thereof; or
- (d) an investment company, trustee company, asset management company or an employee or director thereof; or
- (e) an official of a stock exchange or of clearing house or corporation; or
- (f) a member of board of trustees of a mutual fund or a member of the board of directors of the asset management company of a mutual fund or is an employee thereof; or
- (g) a member of the board of directors or an employee, of a public financial institution as defined in section 2 (72) of the Companies Act, 2013; or
- (h) an official or an employee of a self-regulatory organization recognised or authorized by the SEBI; or
- (i) a banker of the company; or
- (j) a concern, firm, trust, Hindu undivided family, company or association of persons wherein a director of a company or his immediate relative or banker of the company, has more than ten percent of the holding or interest;

It is intended that a connected person is one who has a connection with the company that is expected to put him in possession of unpublished price sensitive information. Immediate relatives and other categories of persons specified above are also presumed to be connected persons but such a presumption is a deeming legal fiction and is rebuttable. This definition is also intended to bring into its ambit persons who may not seemingly occupy any position in a company but are in regular touch with the company and its officers and are involved in the know how of the company's operations. It is intended to bring within its ambit those who would have access to or could access unpublished price sensitive information about any company or class of companies by virtue of any connection that would put them in possession of unpublished price sensitive information.

"Generally available information" means information that is accessible to the public on a non-discriminatory basis; Information published on the website of a stock exchange, would ordinarily be considered generally available.

The Regulation defines the term 'immediate relative' as a spouse of a person, and includes parent, sibling, and child of such person or of the spouse, any of whom is either dependent financially on such person, or consults such person in taking decisions relating to trading in securities.

SEBI Insider regulations, defines an 'insider' as any person who is:

- i) a connected person; or
- ii) in possession of or having access to UPSI;

Since "generally available information" is defined, it is intended that anyone in possession of or having access to unpublished price sensitive information should be considered an "insider" regardless of how one came in possession of or had access to such information. Various circumstances are provided for such a person to demonstrate that he has not indulged in insider trading. Therefore, this definition is intended to bring within its reach any person who is in receipt of or has access to unpublished price sensitive information.

The onus of showing that a certain person was in possession of or had access to unpublished price sensitive information at the time of trading would, therefore, be on the person leveling the charge after which the person who has traded when in possession of or having access to UPSI may demonstrate that he was not in such possession or that he has not traded or he could not access or that his trading when in possession of such information was squarely covered by the exonerating circumstances.

Unpublished price sensitive information is any information, relating to a company or its securities, directly or indirectly, that is not generally available which upon becoming generally available, is likely to materially affect the price of the securities and shall, ordinarily including but not restricted to, information relating to the following: –

- (i) financial results;
- (ii) dividends;
- (iii) change in capital structure;
- (iv) mergers, de-mergers, acquisitions, delistings, disposals and expansion of business and such other transactions;
- (v) changes in key managerial personnel.

What is prohibited under SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations?

Regulation 3(1) is intended to cast an obligation on all insiders who are essentially persons in possession of unpublished price sensitive information to handle such information with care and to deal with the information with them when transacting their business strictly on a need-to-know basis. It is also intended to lead to organisations developing practices based on need-to-know principles for treatment of information in their possession. Regulation 3(2) is intended to impose a prohibition on unlawfully procuring possession of unpublished price sensitive information. Inducement and procurement of unpublished price sensitive information not in furtherance of one's legitimate duties and discharge of obligations would be illegal under this provision.

Regulation 3 states that an insider shall not communicate, provide, or allow access to any unpublished price sensitive information, relating to a company or securities listed or proposed to be listed, to any person including other insiders except where such communication is in furtherance of legitimate purposes, performance of duties or discharge of legal obligations. Regulation 3(2) states that no person shall procure from or cause the communication by any insider of unpublished price sensitive information, relating to a company or securities listed or proposed to be listed, except in furtherance of legitimate purposes, performance of duties or discharge of legal obligations.

Regulation 3(3) further states that an unpublished price sensitive information may be communicated, provided, allowed access to or procured, in connection with transactions that would:

- (i) entail an obligation to make an open offer under the takeover regulations where the board of directors of the company is of informed opinion that the proposed transaction is in the best interests of the company;
- (ii) not attract the obligation to make an open offer under the takeover regulations but where the board of directors of the listed company is of informed opinion that the proposed transaction is in the best interests of the company and the information that constitutes unpublished price sensitive information is disseminated to be made generally available at least two trading days prior to the proposed transaction being effected in such form as the board of directors may determine.

For this purpose Regulation 3(4) states that the board of directors shall require the parties to execute agreements to contract confidentiality and non-disclosure obligations on the part of such parties and such parties shall keep information so received confidential, except for the purpose of sub-regulation (3), and shall not otherwise trade in securities of the company when in possession of unpublished price sensitive information.

As per Regulation 4, no insider shall trade in securities that are listed or proposed to be listed on a stock exchange when in possession of unpublished price sensitive information. However, the insider may prove his innocence by demonstrating the circumstances including the following:

(i) the transaction is an off-market inter-se transfer between insiders who were in possession of the same unpublished price sensitive information without being in breach of regulation 3 and both parties had made a conscious and informed trade decision;

Provided that such unpublished price sensitive information was not obtained under sub-regulation (3) of regulation 3 of the SEBI PIT Regulations.

Provided further that such off-market trades shall be reported by the insiders to the company within two working days. Every company shall notify the particulars of such trades to the stock exchange on which the securities are listed within two trading days from receipt of the disclosure or from becoming aware of such information.

Provided that such unpublished price sensitive information was not obtained by either person under sub-regulation (3) of regulation 3 of the SEBI PIT Regulations.

(iii) the transaction in question was carried out pursuant to a statutory or regulatory obligation to carryout a bona fide transaction.

(b) appropriate and adequate arrangements were in place to ensure that these regulations are not violated and no unpublished price sensitive information was communicated by the individuals possessing the information to the individuals taking trading decisions and there is no evidence of such arrangements having been breached;

(vi) the trades were pursuant to a trading plan set up in accordance with regulation 5.

Regulation 5 deals with Trading Plans which can be formulated by an insider and the procedure related. It states as under:

- (v) set out either the value of trades to be effected or the number of securities to be traded along with the nature of the trade and the intervals at, or dates on which such trades shall be effected;
- (vi) not entail trading in securities for market abuse.

(3) The compliance officer shall review the Trading Plan to assess whether the plan would have any potential for violation of these regulations and shall be entitled to seek such express undertakings as may be necessary to enable such assessment and to approve and monitor the implementation of the plan. However, pre-clearance of trades shall not be required for a trade executed as per an approved trading plan. It is further stated that trading window norms and restrictions on contra trade shall not be applicable for trades carried out in accordance with an approved trading plan.

(4) The trading plan once approved shall be irrevocable and the insider shall mandatorily have to implement the plan, without being entitled to either deviate from it or to execute any trade in the securities outside the scope of the trading plan.

However the implementation of the trading plan shall not be commenced if any unpublished price sensitive information in possession of the insider at the time of formulation of the plan has not become generally available at the time of the commencement of implementation and in such event the compliance officer shall confirm that the commencement ought to be deferred until such unpublished price sensitive information becomes generally available information so as to avoid a violation of sub-regulation (1) of regulation 4.

(5) Upon approval of the trading plan, the compliance officer shall notify the plan to the stock exchanges on which the securities are listed.

Whereas the Compulsory delisting involves delisting by exchanges on account of any disciplinary action initiated by either the Exchanges or by SEBI on non-fulfilment of the listing criteria set by the exchanges. These regulations do not apply to securities listed without making a public issue on the institutional trading platform of a recognised stock exchange

The SEBI delisting regulations shall not apply to any delisting made to a resolution plan approved under section 31 of the Insolvency Code, if such plan provides for:

- (i) delisting of such shares; or
- (ii) an exit opportunity to the existing public shareholders at a specified price:

Provided further that the details of delisting of such shares along with the justification for the exit price in respect of the proposed delisting shall be disclosed to the recognized stock exchange(s) where the shares are listed within one day of approval of the resolution plan under section 31 of the Insolvency Code.

 - If the equity shares are proposed to be delisted & would not remain listed on any of the stock exchanges having nationwide trading terminals, the issuer shall provide an exit opportunity to the existing shareholders.

- In respect of delisting where exit opportunity is required to be given the offer price shall be determined through a book building process popularly known as Reverse Book Building (RBB), after fixing of floor price.
- The final offer price shall be determined at the price at which the maximum number of equity shares is tendered by the public shareholders.
- Acquirers/Promoters shall not be bound to accept the equity shares at the offer price determined by the Reverse Book Building process and promoter may decide not to accept the offer price so determined.
- Issue is considered successful if promoter holding reaches more than 90% of the issued equity share capital.

SUPPORT REGULATIONS

Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999

The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) was enacted to replace the Foreign Exchange (Regulation Act) 1973 by separating the policy with regard to management of foreign exchange from enforcement provisions relating to serious economic offences involving foreign exchange. The main objective behind the Foreign Exchange Management Act (1999) is to consolidate and amend the law relating to foreign exchange with the objective of facilitating external trade and payments. It was also formulated to promote the orderly development and maintenance of foreign exchange market in India. The administrative provisions of foreign exchange management were enacted as FEMA and serious foreign exchange offences (including money laundering and round tripping) were included in the new Prevention of Money Laundering Act 2002 (PMLA).

FEMA is applicable to the whole of India. The act is also applicable to all branches, offices and agencies outside India owned or controlled by a person who is a resident of India. Section 6 of FEMA read with various notifications and circulars issued by RBI as well as regulations issued by SEBI (with regard to foreign investment by entities registered with SEBI) provide an elaborate regulatory framework governing foreign exchange transactions, inbound and outbound investments in foreign exchange (by residents and non-residents), acquisition of property and assets in India by non-residents and acquisition and holding of foreign exchange assets by residents of India. With regard to foreign direct investment (FDI) into India, the policy framework is issued by the Government of India, (Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade) while the operative notifications under FEMA are issued by the RBI.

While the Bare Act is very brief, most of the foreign exchange law as applicable is contained in the FEMA Regulations issued from time to time by the RBI on various matters concerning foreign exchange transactions. These relate to matters such as external commercial borrowings, trade financing in foreign exchange, foreign exchange transactions involving exports, imports and remittances, foreign investment in India, Indian investment abroad, real estate acquisition in India by non-residents, resident Indian acquisition and holding of property and other assets abroad, bringing in of foreign currency into India, current account income and expenditure in foreign currency and associated matters.

Inbound Foreign Investment Routes under FEMA

For the purpose of being classified as FDI, the size of the investment shall not be less than 10% of the post-investment fully diluted paid-up capital of the investee company. As already stated the FDI policy is issued from time to time by the Government of India and is operationalised by the RBI under FEMA through the Foreign Exchange Management (Non- Debt Instrument) Rules ('NDI Rules')⁷. The modalities and operational directions are issued under the FEMA Master Directions.

The FDI policy read with the NDI Rules and Master Directions deals with prohibited sectors for FDI, permitted sectors with sectoral caps (i.e. the maximum FDI approved in the paid-up capital of an investee company in a given sector), type of securities that can be issued, investments that can be made under automatic route without prior permissions from RBI or the government, investments that require prior government and RBI approval, minimum capitalisation norms in select cases, pricing regulations for the issue of securities by Indian companies to non-resident investors, subsequent sale or transfer of such securities by non-residents and all incidental matters connected to foreign investments.

⁷ These regulations are notified on 17 October 2019.

2. FPI Route – The Foreign Portfolio Investment (FPI) route is available to non-resident investors wherein the size of such investment shall not be more than 10% of the post-investment fully diluted paid-up capital of the listed Indian investee company. Such investments can be made in listed companies on the stock market or through private placements and other available routes. Foreign Portfolio Investors need to be registered with SEBI prior to commencing investment activity and such persons can be institutional or non-institutional investors. Such registration with SEBI shall be in accordance with the SEBI (Foreign Portfolio Investors) Regulations, 2019. The registration with SEBI will provide the necessary rules and regulations to be followed for FPI activity. In addition, the modalities for FPI investments under FEMA are covered in the Master Directions and the NDI Rules of RBI.
3. FVCI Route – The Foreign Venture Capital Investment (FVCI) route is available to off-shore funds that seek to make venture capital investments in eligible unlisted investee companies in India. FVCI funds need to be registered with SEBI prior to commencing investment activity under the SEBI (Foreign Venture Capital Investors) Regulations 2000. The registration with SEBI will provide the necessary rules and regulations to be followed for FVCI activity. In addition, the modalities for FVCI investments under FEMA are covered in the Master Directions and NDI Rules of RBI. FVCIs are allowed to invest only in stipulated priority sectors such as bio-technology, infrastructure etc. except in the case of start-ups which can be from any sector.

An FVCI can also acquire units of a Category I AIF or any scheme therein. An FVCI may also invest in securities on a recognised stock exchange subject to the provisions of the SEBI (FVCI) Regulations, 2000. Prevention of Money Laundering Act 2002

India is a full-fledged member of the Financial Action Task Force, an international watchdog for money laundering. It is an inter-governmental body that sets international standards that aim to prevent these illegal activities. Member nations are required to pass domestic laws to prevent money laundering and perform an oversight function.

In pursuance of international commitments, the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) was enacted to prevent the generation of black money and proceeds from criminal activities. The Act brings RBI, SEBI and IRDA under its purview and hence, is applicable to all financial institutions, banks, insurance companies, mutual funds and their intermediaries. The Act came into force from 1st July 2005. Under section 3 of the Act, whosoever directly or indirectly attempts to indulge or knowingly assists or knowingly is a party or is actually involved in any process or activity connected proceeds of crime including its concealment, possession, acquisition or use and projecting or claiming it as untainted property shall be guilty of the offence of money-laundering. In other words, money laundering is the process of conversion of money obtained from criminal activity into apparently legitimate money by concealing its criminal origin. As per Section 48 and 49 of the Act, the officers of Directorate of Enforcement have been given the power to investigate cases of money laundering. The officers can launch prosecution in the designated Special Court for the offence of money laundering. The ED can take actions like confiscation of property if the same is determined to be proceeds of crime derived from a Scheduled Offence under the PMLA, and to prosecute the persons involved in the offence.

Generation of black money through cash transactions and funnelling it into bank accounts through layering with a series of fictitious transactions using shell companies is a very good example of money laundering in the domestic economy. Money laundering through cross border route is also possible through the process of round tripping, hawala transactions etc. and routing the funds through tax haven bank accounts held by private trusts and other concealed entities. Money laundering is a serious economic offence as it undermines the integrity of the market participants, distorts economic performance, misallocates capital flows, evades taxes and finances criminal and terrorist activities.

Banking companies, financial institutions and intermediaries under the Act are known as reporting entities. A reporting entity is to maintain records (Section 12) and furnish information as and when required to the Director –Financial Intelligence Unit –India. (Section 12 A). They are also required to verify and maintain records of the identity of their clients. Such records are required to be maintained for a period of 5 years from the date of cessation of the transaction between the client and the reporting entity.

(b) his underwriting commitment.

35. A merchant banker acting as an underwriter shall not indulge in any unfair competition, which is likely to be harmful to the interest of other entities acting as underwriters carrying on the business of underwriting or likely to place such other underwriters in a dis-advantageous position in relation to the underwriter while competing for, or carrying out any assignment.

General obligations and Responsibilities

In this section we discuss the general responsibilities of a merchant banker as prescribed in the SEBI Merchant Banking Regulations, which includes following the Code of Conduct, maintaining proper books of accounts, submitting half yearly results and other relevant information to SEBI as well as specific responsibilities with regard to lead managers of an issue. The relevant sections from the SEBI Regulations are mentioned in the parentheses.

Code of Conduct

In order to maintain the highest level of honesty, integrity, ethics, professional judgment and keeping the interests of the investor in mind, SEBI requires that merchant bankers follow the Code of Conduct as specified in the SEBI Regulations, (already been discussed in the section 3.3).

Merchant banker not to associate with any business other than that of the securities market

No merchant banker, other than a Bank or a Public Financial Institution, who has been granted a certificate of registration under these regulations shall carry on any business other than that in the securities market.

Maintain books of accounts, records etc.

The solvency and financial stability of merchant bankers is of prime importance to the merchant banking business. Keeping this in mind, SEBI has prescribed the following rules under regulation 14 of the SEBI Merchant Banking Regulations:

(1) Every merchant banker shall keep and maintain the following books of account, records and documents namely:

- (a) a copy of balance sheet as at the end of each accounting period;
- (b) a copy of profit and loss account for that period;
- (c) a copy of the auditor's report on the accounts for that period;
- (d) a statement of financial position.
- (e) Records and documents pertaining to due diligence exercised in pre-issue and post-issue activities of issue management and in case of takeover, buy-back and delisting of securities.

(2) Every merchant banker shall intimate to SEBI the place where the books of account, records and documents are maintained.

(3) Every merchant banker shall, after the end of each accounting period furnish to SEBI copies of the balance sheet, profit and loss account and such other documents for any other preceding five accounting years when required by SEBI.

(4) Every merchant banker acting as an underwriter shall also maintain the following records with respect to—(i) details of all agreements entered with a body corporate on whose behalf it is acting as an underwriter; (ii) total amount of securities of each body corporate subscribed to in pursuance of an agreement; (iii) statement of capital adequacy requirements; (iv) such other records as may be specified by the SEBI from time to time

The above documents need to be maintained for a minimum period of 5 years.

Submission of half-yearly results

In order to properly monitor the capital adequacy and the financial health of the merchant banker, regulation 15 has mandated merchant bankers to submit the unaudited half yearly financial results when required by SEBI. In this context, it is important to note the requirements of Regulation 17 which states that every merchant banker shall within two months from the date of the auditor's report take steps to rectify the deficiencies made out in the auditor's report.

Responsibilities of lead managers

Lead managers of an issue are primarily responsible for the pricing, financing and distribution of the securities. They have a greater responsibility towards investors, SEBI and the issuer company. SEBI under regulation 20 has mandated that:

“(1) No lead manager shall agree to manage or be associated with any issue unless his responsibilities relating to issue mainly, those of disclosures, allotment and refund are clearly defined, allocated and determined and a statement specifying such responsibilities is furnished to SEBI at least one month before the opening of the issue for subscription:

Provided that, where there is more than one lead merchant banker to the issue the responsibilities of each of such lead merchant bankers shall clearly be demarcated and a statement specifying such responsibilities shall be furnished to SEBI at least one month before the opening of the issue for subscription.”

This is to ensure that the lead managers are well aware of their rights and duties in the course of issuance of a security.

Lead Merchant Banker not to associate with any Merchant Banker which is not holding SEBI registration

In order to ensure the highest standards of integrity and service to investors and clients, Regulation 21 of the SEBI MB Regulation has prescribed that merchant bankers shall not be lead managers in any issue if a merchant banker who is not holding a certificate of registration from SEBI is associated to the issue.

Additionally, regulation 21A of the SEBI MB Regulation requires that a merchant banker shall not be lead manager or associated with any activity undertaken under any regulations made by SEBI, if he is a promoter or a director or an associate of the issuer of securities or of any person making an offer to sell or purchase securities in terms of any regulations made by SEBI. However, a merchant banker who is an associate of such issuer or person may be appointed, if he is involved only in the marketing of the issue or offer. The term ‘associate of the issuer or the person who is issuing the securities’ here is interpreted as:

“(i) either of them controls, directly or indirectly through its subsidiary or holding company, not less than fifteen percent of the voting rights in the other; or

(ii) Either of them, directly or indirectly, by itself or in combination with other persons, exercises control over the other; or

(iii) There is a common director, excluding nominee director, amongst the issuer, its subsidiary or holding company and the merchant banker.”

This aims at preventing any issues relating to conflict of interest.

Underwriting Obligations

As per provisions of the regulation 22 of the SEBI Merchant Banking Regulation, for every issue, the lead manager will accept a minimum underwriting obligation of 5% of the total underwriting commitment²¹ or Rs. 25 lakh, whichever is lesser.

Provided that, if the lead manager is unable to accept this obligation, he shall make arrangement for the issue to be underwritten by a merchant banker associated with the issue and shall keep SEBI informed about this.

Further, in any issue made in accordance with the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018, (Initial Public Offer by Small and Medium Enterprises), the merchant banker shall itself or jointly with other merchant bankers associated with the issue underwrite at least 15% of the issue size on their own account.

Acquisition of shares prohibited

In order to prevent merchant bankers from profiting from sensitive information they may have about their clients or otherwise, SEBI has prohibited acquisition of shares on the basis of such information. Regulation 26 of the SEBI Merchant Banking Regulation states that “No merchant banker or any of its directors, partner or manager or principal officer shall either on their respective accounts or through their associates or relatives, enter into any transaction in securities of bodies corporate on the basis of unpublished price sensitive information obtained by them during the course of any professional assignment either from the clients or otherwise.”

²¹Is the amount of an underwriter's statutory underwriting commitment which the lead manager allows the underwriter to keep for the underwriter's own sales effort (<http://www.capitalmarketsadvisors.com/glossary.html>).

Information to SEBI

Every merchant banker shall submit to SEBI complete particulars of any transaction for acquisition of securities of any body corporate whose issue is being managed by that merchant banker within fifteen days from the date of entering into such transaction. However, complete particulars of any transaction for acquisition of securities made in pursuance of underwriting or market making obligations in accordance with the SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018 shall be submitted to SEBI on quarterly basis.

Disclosures to the SEBI

In order to maintain highest levels of transparency, merchant bankers are required to make disclosures regarding issue management and capital adequacy. Regulation 28 states as under:

“A merchant banker shall disclose to SEBI, as and when required, the following information, namely:

- (i) His responsibilities with regard to the management of the issue;
- (ii) Any change in the information or particulars previously furnished, which have a bearing on the certificate granted to it;
- (iii) The names of the body corporate whose issues he has managed or has been associated with;
- (iv) The particulars relating to the breach of the capital adequacy requirement as specified in regulation 7;
- (v) Relating to his activities as a manager, underwriter, consultant or adviser to an issue, as the case may be.

It further states that the merchant banker shall submit a periodic report in such manner as may be specified by SEBI from time to time.

Appointment of Compliance Officer

In order to deal with investor grievances and any compliance issues with the Code of Conduct, a merchant banker is required to appoint a Compliance Officer to ensure the proper compliance to all the rules and regulations applicable to the merchant banker as per Regulation 28A of the SEBI Merchant Banking Regulation.

“(1) Every merchant banker shall appoint a compliance officer who shall be responsible for monitoring the compliance of the Act, rules and regulations, notifications, guidelines, instructions, etc., issued by SEBI or the Central Government and for redressal of investors’ grievances.

(2) The compliance officer shall immediately and independently report to SEBI any non-compliance observed by him and ensure that the observations made or deficiencies pointed out by SEBI on/in the draft prospectus or the letters of offer as the case may be, do not recur.”

Redressal of Investor Grievances and SCORES

SEBI has vide its Circular No. CIR/OIAE/2/2011 dated June 3, 2011 provided for a system for processing of investor complaints against listed companies called SEBI Complaints Redress System (SCORES). This is a centralised web based complaints redress system. The salient features of this system are:

- Centralised database of all complaints
- Online movement of complaints to the concerned listed companies
- Online upload of Action Taken Reports (ATRs) by the concerned intermediaries / companies and
- Online viewing by investors of actions taken on the complaint and its current status

Complaints arising out of issues that are covered under SEBI Act, Securities Contract Regulation Act, Depositories Act and Rules and Regulation made there under and provisions that are covered under section 26 of Companies Act are complaints dealt with by SEBI.

For redressal of investor grievances, each Merchant Banker is given a user id and password for gaining access to the SCORES website. The merchant banker is expected to log in to the website on a daily basis to check for any new complaints uploaded by SEBI and to initiate steps to get these resolved at the earliest. As stated above, the merchant banker is also expected to submit an Action Taken Report (ATR) in respect of each such complaint.

Certain matters are not considered as complaints in SCORES. These are given hereunder:

- Complaints that are incomplete or not specific
- Allegations without supporting documents
- Offering suggestions or seeking guidance/explanation
- Seeking explanation for non-trading of shares or illiquidity of shares
- Not satisfied with trading price of the shares of the companies
- Non-listing of shares of private offer
- Disputes arising out of private agreement with companies/intermediaries

Apart from this, there are certain complaints not dealt with by SEBI:

- Complaints against unlisted/delisted/wound up/liquidated/sick companies
- Complaints that are sub-judice (relating to cases which are under consideration by court of law, quasi-judicial proceedings etc.)
- Complaints falling under the purview of other regulatory bodies viz. RBI, IRDA, PFRDA, CCI, etc., or under the purview of other ministries viz., MCA, etc.

Chapter 4: Issue Management – Important Terms

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the:

- Various terms which are related to offering e.g. IPO, Green Shoe Option, QIP, etc

In the following chapters we will discuss the Issue management process, underwriting provisions with regards to the Merchant banker's role in it. However before going into the process details, we look at the important frequently used terms in the Issue Management process and the primary market. These terms are discussed in this chapter.

Understand the various terms related to Offering

(1) Initial Public Offer

Initial Public Offer (IPO) means an offer of specified securities by an unlisted issuer to the public for subscription and includes an offer for sale of specified securities to the public by any existing holders of such securities in an unlisted issuer. When an unlisted company makes either a fresh issue of securities or an offer for sale of its existing securities or both; for the first time to the public; it is termed as an IPO. This paves the way for listing and trading of the issuer's securities.

(2) Further Public Offer

A further public offering (FPO) means an offer of specified securities by a listed issuer to the public for subscription and includes an offer for sale of specified securities to the public by any existing holders of such securities in a listed issuer. It is when an already listed company makes either a fresh issue of securities to the public i.e. other than to its existing shareholders or an offer for sale to the public or both through an offer document it is called a further public offer. FPO can be made through a book building process or a fixed price issue.

FPO may be made through the Fast Track Issue (FTI) process, provided certain conditions as prescribed under the SEBI ICDR Regulations are complied with. Such issues are also granted exemptions from requirements such as filing the draft offer document with SEBI, issuance of observations by SEBI etc.

(3) Net Offer to Public

“Net offer to public” means an offer of specified securities to the public but does not include reservations made for certain investor-categories. It also does not include securities if any, to be subscribed by the promoter group. It is important to note that the Net Offer to the Public should be in compliance with Rule 19(2)(b) of SCRR (Refer section 2.3.3 of this workbook).

(4) Rights Issue

Rights issue means an offer of specified securities by a listed issuer to the shareholders of the issuer as on the record date fixed for the said purpose.

Rights issue may be made through the Fast track issue process also provided certain conditions as prescribed under the SEBI ICDR Regulations are complied with. Such issues are also granted exemptions from requirements such as filing the draft offer document with SEBI, issuance of observations by SEBI etc.

(5) Qualified Institutions Placement

When a listed issuer issues equity shares or securities convertible in to equity shares to Qualified Institutional Buyers only in terms of provisions of Chapter VI of SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018 SEBI ICDR, it is called a QIP. As per SEBI ICDR, Qualified Institutional Buyer means:

- SEBI registered mutual fund, venture capital fund, Alternative Investment Fund and foreign venture capital investor registered with the Board;
- Foreign portfolio investor other than individuals, corporate bodies and family offices;
- A Public financial institution
- Scheduled commercial bank;

- National Investment Fund set up by the Government of India;
- Insurance Funds set up and managed by army, navy or air force of the Union of India;
- Insurance Funds set up by the Department of Posts.
- Systemically important non-banking financial companies.

(6) Preferential Issue

Preferential issue means an issue of specified securities by a listed issuer to any select person or group of persons on a private placement basis and does not include an offer of specified securities made through a public issue, rights issue, bonus issue, employee stock option scheme, employee stock purchase scheme or qualified institutions placement or an issue of sweat equity shares or depository receipts issued in a country outside India or foreign securities.

(7) Offer for sale through Stock Exchange Mechanism

In order to facilitate promoters to dilute/offload their holding in listed companies in a transparent manner with wider participation, SEBI has allowed the offer for sale of shares by promoters of such companies through a separate window provided by the stock exchange(s). The details about the mechanism are given in SEBI Circular Reference No. SEBI/HO/MRD/MRD-PoD-3/P/CIR/2023/10 dated January 10, 2023.

(8) Offer Document

Offer document is a document which contains all the relevant information about the company, promoters, projects, financial details, objects of raising the money, terms of the issue etc. and is used for inviting subscription to the issue being made by the issuer. Offer Document is called “Red Herring Prospectus” and/or “Prospectus” in case of a public issue or offer for sale and “Letter of Offer” in case of a rights issue. Terms used for offer documents vary depending upon the stage or type of the issue where the document is used. As per the SEBI ICDR Regulations, “offer document” means a red herring prospectus, prospectus or shelf prospectus and information memorandum in terms of section 31 of the Companies Act, 2013 in case of a public issue and letter of offer in case of a rights issue.

Draft offer document is an offer document filed with SEBI for specifying changes, if any, in it, before it is filed with the Registrar of companies (ROCs) in case of a public issue and before it is filed with the Stock Exchanges in case of a Rights Issue. Draft offer document is made available in public domain including SEBI website, for enabling public to give comments, if any, on the draft offer document.

Red herring prospectus is an offer document used in case of a book built public issue. It contains all the relevant details except that of price or number of shares being offered. It is filed with RoC before the issue opens.

(9) Book Building Process

As per the SEBI ICDR Regulations, “book building” means a process undertaken to elicit demand and to assess the price for determination of the quantum or value or coupon of specified securities or Indian Depository Receipts, as the case may be, in accordance with these regulations.

In the book built method, the process aids price and demand discovery. It is a mechanism where, during the period for which the book for the offer is kept open, bids are collected from investors at various prices at which they are willing to subscribe to a certain number of shares, which is within the price band specified by the issuer. Price band indicates the floor price which is the minimum price at which the bid can be made and the cap which is the upper limit of the price at which the bid can be made.²² The cap price shall be at 105% of the floor price but cannot be more than 20% of the floor price. The process is directed towards both the institutional as well as the retail investors. The issue price is determined after the bid closure based on the demand generated in the process.

(10) Fixed Price Issue

In fixed price issue, the prospectus that is filed with RoC contains the issue price per share and the demand for the issue is known only while the issue is kept open for subscription.

(11) Differential Pricing

When one category of investors is offered shares at a price different from the other category it is called differential pricing. An issuer company can allot the shares to retail individual investors and certain other categories of investors at a prescribed discount to the price at which the shares are offered to other categories of public.

(12) Fast Track Issue

SEBI introduced Fast Track Issue (FTI) in order to enable well established and compliant listed companies satisfying certain specific entry norms/conditions to access Indian Primary Market in a time effective manner. Such companies can proceed with FPOs / Right Issues by filing a copy of Red Herring Prospectus / Prospectus with the ROC or the Letter of Offer with designated Stock Exchange, SEBI and Stock Exchanges. Such companies are not required to file Draft Offer Document for SEBI comments and to Stock Exchanges.

²² In case of book built issues, a minimum price band of at least 105% of the floor price shall be applicable for all issues opening on or after SEBI notification in the official gazette.

(13) Green Shoe Option

SEBI ICDR Regulations has defined green shoe option as an option of allotting equity shares in excess of the equity shares offered in the public issue as a post-listing price stabilising mechanism. Green Shoe Option is a price stabilizing mechanism in which shares are issued in excess of the issue size, by a maximum of 15%. From an investor's perspective, an issue with green shoe option provides more probability of getting shares and also that post listing price may show relatively more stability. The specified securities bought from the market and credited in the special account with the depository participant shall be returned to the promoters or pre-issue shareholders immediately, in any case not later than two working days after the end of the stabilisation period. Hence effectively, the issuer borrows securities from the promoters or pre-issue shareholders and returns it to them after the stabilisation period.

(14) Application Supported by Blocked Amount and Unified Payment Interface

Application Supported by Blocked Amount (ASBA) means an application for subscribing to a public issue or rights issue, along with an authorisation to self-certified syndicate bank to block the application money in a bank account;

The bank will block the application money in the bank account specified in the ASBA on the basis of the authorisation.

(i) In case of all, public issues, the issuer shall accept bids using only ASBA facility in the manner specified by the Board;

(ii) In case of rights issues, where not more than one payment option is given, the issuer shall provide the facility of ASBA in accordance with the procedure and eligibility criteria specified by SEBI provided that in case of qualified institutional buyers and non-institutional investors the issuer shall accept bids using ASBA facility only. Provided that the applicants in a rights issue shall be eligible to make applications through ASBA facility only if such applicant: (i) is holding equity shares in dematerialised mode; (ii) has not renounced entitlement in part or in full; and (iii) is not a renouncee.

Provided further that payment made for application for any reserved portion outside the issue period can be through electronic banking modes.

When applying through ASBA, his application money shall be debited from the bank account only if his/her application is selected for allotment after the basis of allotment is finalised, or the issue is withdrawn/failed.

Under ASBA facility, investors can apply in any public/ rights issues by using their bank account. Investor submits the ASBA form (available at the designated branches of the banks acting as SCSB) after filling the details like name of the applicant, PAN number, demat account number, bid quantity, bid price and other relevant details, to their banking branch by giving an instruction to block the amount in their account. In turn, the bank will upload the details of the application in the bidding platform. Investors shall ensure that the details that are filled in the ASBA form are correct otherwise the form is liable to be rejected.

Every stock broker shall accept orders from all clients/investors who place orders through him and every Self Certified Syndicate Bank, Registrar to Issue and Share Transfer Agents or Depository Participants shall accept Applications Supported by Blocked Amount from ASBA investors.

Further, SEBI had introduced the use of Unified Payments Interface (UPI) as a payment mechanism with ASBA for applications in public issues by retail individual investors through intermediaries (Syndicate members, Registered Stock Brokers, Registrar and Transfer agent and Depository Participants).²⁴

(15) Hard and Soft Underwriting

Hard underwriting is when an underwriter agrees to buy his commitment at its earliest stage. The underwriter guarantees a fixed amount to the issuer from the issue. The underwriter bears a risk which is much higher than soft underwriting. Hard underwriting is also known as firm underwriting because the underwriter undertakes to buy a certain number of securities in a public offer.

In case of soft underwriting, the underwriter has to take up his share of devolvement (i.e. underwriting commitment less procurement) in case public response to the offer is not sufficient. So, the underwriter's liability arises at a later stage based on investor response. Thus, in case the shares are not subscribed by investors, the issue is devolved on underwriters and they have to bring in the amount by subscribing to the shares. In soft underwriting, the risk to the underwriter is lower. In a public offer, retail individual investors may either withdraw or revise their bids until closure of the issue. However, the qualified institutional buyers and the non-institutional investors shall neither withdraw nor lower the size of their bids at any stage.

(16) Open and Closed Book

In an open book building system the merchant banker along with the issuer ensures that the demand for the securities and the bids are displayed online on the website of the Stock Exchanges. Here, the investor can be guided by the movements of the bids during the period in which the bid is kept open. Indian Book building process provides for an open book system.

In the closed book building system, the book is not made public and the bidders will have to take a call on the price at which they intend to make a bid without having any information on the bids submitted by other bidders.

²⁴ SEBI circular reference number SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2018/138 dated November 1, 2018.

(17) Basis of Allocation

After the closure of the issue, for example a book built public issue, the bids received are aggregated under different categories i.e., Qualified Institutional Buyers (QIBs), Non-Institutional Buyers (NIBs), Retail, etc. The allotment of specified securities to each retail individual investor shall not be less than the minimum bid lot, subject to availability of shares in retail individual investor category, and the remaining available shares, if any, shall be allotted on a proportionate basis. Further, the allotment of specified securities to each Non-Institutional Buyers shall not be less than the Rs. 2,00,000/-, subject to availability of shares in Non-Institutional Buyers category, and the remaining available shares, if any, shall be allotted on a proportionate basis.

(18) Categories of Investor

Investors are broadly classified under following categories:

- Retail individual Investor (RIIs): means an investor who applies or bids for securities for a value of not more than Rs. 2 lakh.
- Qualified Institutional Buyers (QIBs): means (a) a public financial institution; (b) a scheduled commercial bank; (c) a mutual fund, venture capital fund, alternative investment fund and foreign venture capital investor registered with SEBI; (d) a foreign portfolio investor registered with SEBI, other than individuals, corporate bodies, and family offices; (e) a multilateral and bilateral development financial institution; (f) a state industrial development corporation; (g) an insurance company registered with the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI); (h) a provident fund with minimum corpus of Rs. 25 crores; (i) a pension fund with minimum corpus of Rs. 25 crores; (j) National Investment Fund; (k) insurance funds set up and managed by army, navy or air force of the Union of India; (l) insurance funds set up and managed by the Department of Posts, India (m) systemically important non-banking financial companies.

(21) Specified Securities

Specified securities means equity shares and convertible securities. The word ‘Securities’ has been defined in the SCRA, 1956 (refer section 2.3.2 of this workbook).

(22) Unified Payment Interface (UPI) Mechanism

Unified Payments Interface or UPI is an immediate real-time payment system that helps in instantly transferring the funds between the two bank accounts. UPI is built over the IMPS infrastructure using a payment address which uniquely identifies a person's bank a/c. Hence, UPI is a concept that allows multiple bank accounts to get into a single mobile application. It was developed by the National Payments Corporation of India, an RBI regulated entity. Most payment applications currently operating in India for mobile fund transfers and merchant payments use UPI technology.

SEBI issued a circular²⁶ to introduce UPI based payment mechanism with Application Supported by Block Amount (ASBA) for applications in public issues by retail individual investors through intermediaries (Syndicate members, Registered Stock Brokers, Registrar and Transfer agent and Depository Participants). The underlying objective is to increase the efficiency, eliminate need for manual intervention at various stages, and to reduce the time duration from issue closure to listing by upto 3 working days. In the first phase, UPI was introduced as an additional payment feature along with existing payment methods. In the second phase, the existing process of physical movement of forms from intermediaries to Self-Certified Syndicate Banks (SCSBs) for blocking of funds was to be discontinued and only the UPI mechanism was proposed to be used.

The use of UPI in a public issue requires a sponsor bank which means a Banker to the Issue registered with SEBI that is appointed by the Issuer to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to push the mandate collect requests and / or payment instructions of the retail investors into the UPI. In the issue, the UPI would allow the facility to block the funds of the retail investor at the time of application. For this purpose, a retail individual investor would submit the bid-cum-application form with any of the intermediaries and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds.

UPI has since been successfully used in public issues and SEBI is presently in the process of evaluating the migration to the third phase of this system by reducing the processing time of public offers from the present T+6 to the T+3 system²⁷.

(23) Alternate Capital Market for SME Start-ups

Under the ICDR Regulations, small and medium enterprises (SMEs) have been given an opportunity to list their securities on an alternative platform in the stock exchange, known as the SME Exchange. 'SME exchange' means a trading platform of a recognised stock exchange having nationwide trading terminals permitted by the SEBI to list the specified securities issued in accordance with the regulations and includes a stock exchange granted recognition for this purpose but does not include the Main Board (Main Exchange).

The issue of specified securities under the SME platform is applicable to companies whose post-issue paid up capital will not exceed face value of Rs. 10 crores. However, companies whose paid up capital is between Rs. 10 crore and Rs. 25 crore are also eligible to make such issues if they decide to continue on the SME exchange without migration to the Main Board.

Further, the promoters shall continue to hold atleast 20% of such post-issue capital. However, in case the post-issue shareholding of the promoters is less than twenty per cent., AIFs or FVCIs or SCBs or FPIs or insurance companies registered with IRDAI may contribute to meet the shortfall in minimum contribution as specified for the promoters, subject to a maximum of ten per cent of the post-issue capital without being identified as promoter(s). Further that the requirement of minimum promoters' contribution shall not apply in case an issuer does not have any identifiable promoter.

Migration to SME Exchange

A listed issuer with share capital of less than 25 crore rupees may migrate to SME exchange if the shareholders approve by special resolution through postal ballot. Provided that the votes cast in favour of such proposal by non-promoter shareholders are at least two times the votes cast against it by non-promoter shareholders.

Migration to Main Board

An issuer, whose specified securities are listed on a SME Exchange and whose share capital is more than ten crore rupees and upto twenty-five crore rupees, may migrate its specified securities to Main Board (Main exchange) if its shareholders approve such migration by passing a special resolution through postal ballot and upon fulfilling the listing eligibility criteria. Provided that the votes cast in favour of the special resolution by the non-promoter shareholders are at least two times the votes cast against it by non-promoter shareholders.

²⁷ SEBI has clarified that the second phase will continue until further notice due to the disruption caused by the Covid pandemic - SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2 dated March 30, 2020.

Chapter 5: Issue Management - Process and Underwriting

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the:

- Issue management process which includes filing of offer document, documents required to be filed before the issue etc.
- Pricing of issue
- Underwriting obligations
- Minimum subscription, allotment and refund

In India, the Merchant Bankers registered with SEBI have been provided with statutory exclusivity in managing the public offers such as IPOs, rights, FPOs and secondary issues. In the overall process of issue management, the merchant banker plays a variety of important roles such as, an expert advisor to the management of the issuer company, who performs due diligence on the company, as an event manager and coordinator to ensure timely completion of the issue, as a watch dog for the statutory compliance and as a person in fiduciary capacity for protection of the interests of the investors. At the time of an issue, it also acts as an interface between the issuer company and the SEBI. The role of merchant banker in different capacity will be emphasised as the processes involved in issue management are discussed further in this chapter. Merchant bankers are also expected to guard against conflict of interest at every stage.

This chapter deals with the regulations governing the process of Issue management (public issues, rights issues, further public offers etc.) and underwriting of issues as per provisions given in the SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulation, 2018 hereinafter referred to as SEBI ICDR Regulations.

- a preferential issue by a listed issuer;

Appointment of Merchant Bankers and other Intermediaries/Agencies

Since the process of issue management is of critical importance to the issuer company, the selection of the merchant banker and the other related intermediaries is also of great significance. The Regulation 23 and 69 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations for Initial Public Offer and Rights Issue respectively discusses the process of appointing merchant bankers and other intermediaries for the issue which is as discussed below:

Due Diligence and Preparation of Offer Document

Due Diligence

The Code of Conduct of a merchant banker under the SEBI Regulations requires a Lead Manager, amongst other things, to exercise due diligence, ensure proper care and exercise independent professional judgment. Further, the Code of Conduct also requires a Lead Manager to ensure that adequate disclosures are made to investors in a timely manner and in accordance with applicable law, so as to enable investors to make an informed investment decision. Furthermore, the ICDR Regulations also require due diligence certificates to be issued by Lead Managers at various stages of an offer and the formats for such certificates have been provided in the ICDR Regulations. Lead managers are required to submit due diligence certificate(s) to SEBI at various stages of a transaction. It is also an important compliance requirement that the Merchant Banker Regulations require Lead Managers to maintain records and documents pertaining to due diligence exercised in pre-issue and post-issue matters for a minimum period of five years.

There is no legal definition of 'due diligence' but it is an important step in every investment related transaction. In the context of a merchant banker's function, the objective of due diligence is to collect information about the issuer company that helps the lead manager assess the disclosures in the offer document in connection with their obligations under applicable regulations. According to the AIBI's publication on due diligence³³, the due diligence shall cover the following aspects –

- In addition to review of documents sought by Lead Managers, the diligence exercise should include discussions with the representatives of the Issuer (i.e. its Promoters, its Directors, its Key Managerial Personnel and its other key employees).
- A Lead Manager is required to examine documents provided by the Issuer to understand various aspects of the Issuer's businesses, operations and financial condition. This will enable Lead Managers to ensure that the Offer Document contains all necessary disclosures. Accordingly, review and examination of the documents provided by the Issuer, along with incorporation of necessary disclosures in the Offer Documents should be a necessary part of due diligence.
- The Lead Managers are required to independently review all documents and information provided by the Issuer.

³³ Association of Investment Bankers of India's Due Diligence Manual released in 2012 as updated from time to time.

- Lead Managers, with the assistance of legal advisers appointed with respect to the offering, should brief the representatives of the Issuer on their statutory responsibilities and liabilities in connection with the offering under the Companies Act 2013, the ICDR Regulations, the SEBI LODR Regulations, the uniform listing agreement executed with the stock exchanges and other important applicable regulations such as those on prevention of insider trading, substantial acquisitions and takeovers etc.

Role of External parties in the due diligence process

During the due diligence process, the Lead Manager and the issuer are assisted by external parties such as legal counsels, statutory auditors and specialised industry experts, if required. The legal counsel may assist the Lead Manager in carrying out legal documentary due diligence, assisting the issuer in the preparation of the Offer Documents in compliance with ICDR Regulations, the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws and advising the lead managers on legal matters relating to the offering. In addition, the legal counsels may also issue legal and disclosure opinions in relation to the issue to the Lead Managers. The statutory auditors of the issuer company also provide their reports on the financial information included in the Offer Documents and other relevant certifications pertaining to the issue including “comfort letters” for financial information included in the Offer Documents including for periods subsequent to the date of the last audited financial statements.

Key due diligence documents

The lead manager should maintain the following documents being part of their due diligence:

1. Contracts as per the Offer Document shall include:

 - b. Issue Agreement between the issuer and the Lead Manager

For further understanding of the detailed procedure of conducting due diligence as a merchant banker and the complete details of documents /records to be verified, readers are advised to refer to the AIBI's Due Diligence Manual referred to above.

Preparation of Offer Document

The process of public offering for issue of securities is very closely regulated by SEBI to prevent any wrong-doing on part of the issuer company. One of the cornerstones of such oversight is on preparation of the offer document that makes all the disclosures required for investors to make informed investment decisions. In order to issue securities, an issuer has to file a draft offer document with SEBI through the appointed lead merchant banker and pay the requisite fees.

Regulation 24 of ICDR specifies that the disclosures in the draft offer document and offer document shall contain all material disclosures which are true and adequate to enable the applicants to take an informed investment decision. The lead manager(s) shall exercise due diligence and satisfy themselves about all aspects of the issue including the veracity and adequacy of disclosure in the draft offer document and the offer document.

The red-herring prospectus, and prospectus shall contain: (a) disclosures specified in the Companies Act, 2013 and; (b) disclosures specified in Part A of Schedule VI of SEBI ICDR Regulations.

The lead manager(s) shall call upon the issuer, its promoters and its directors or in case of an offer for sale, also the selling shareholders, to fulfil their obligations as disclosed by them in the draft offer document and the offer document and as required in terms of these regulations.

The lead manager(s) shall ensure that the information contained in the draft offer document and offer document and the particulars as per restated audited financial statements in the offer document are not more than six months old from the issue opening date.

The AIBI Due Diligence Manual provides further guidance on preparation of offer documents and inclusion of expert opinions. Offer documents contain ‘expertise’ and ‘non-expertise’ portions. In relation to the ‘expertise’ portion, e.g., the financial statements and the technical reports etc., Lead Managers should be able to rely on the reports /information /certifications provided for disclosure purposes. Lead Managers should endeavor to satisfy themselves that it is reasonable to rely on the information provided by the expert. In case the Issuer belongs to any specialized industry (like oil or gas or mining or other specialized business) or has a project or a facility which requires technical expertise, independent experts / third parties may be appointed and their reports (such as reserve reports or appraisal or feasibility report for a project or quotations for certain objects of the issue) be procured. Such reports along with other relevant details as prescribed under ICDR Regulations may then become the basis for disclosures forming part of the offer documents. The independent experts/ third parties whose report is disclosed in the offer documents shall also issue the necessary consent letter / emails (as applicable). Moreover, any adjective / superlative / specific positioning of the issuer or its products should be backed by an independent source as part of industry report or survey by independent agency or trade body.

With respect to ‘non-expertise’ content of the offer document, the concept of ‘materiality’ is advised in deciding when and to what extent inclusions are required. Materiality analysis serves a dual function in the disclosure process. Firstly, materiality analysis shapes the content of mandatory disclosure required under securities laws. Secondly, materiality analysis shapes the content of clarifying disclosure; information not expressly mandated by disclosure requirements needs to be disclosed only if it is material and necessary to ensure that there is no mis-statement or omission of a material fact.

Filing of Offer Document

The Regulation 25 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations deals with the filing of offer documents with SEBI. The provisions of the Regulation are as follows:

extend the bidding (issue) period disclosed in the red herring prospectus, for a minimum period of three working days, subject to the overall maximum of ten days. The same requirement applies to force majeure, banking strike or other similar circumstances as well.

Subject to other requirements such as obtaining the listing approval of the stock exchange and execution of the uniform listing agreement, an issuer has to list the security for trading within 6 days, i.e. (T+6) from the date of close of the issue. After the introduction of UPI mechanism for retail individual investors (see Chapter 4), SEBI is contemplating to further reduce the time period to list the securities on the stock exchanges.

Pricing of Issue

Issue pricing, especially in IPOs is a determinant based on the fundamentals of the company, prevailing market valuations for other companies in general and peer companies (if any) in particular. The fundamentals would consist of the business prospects in future with the envisaged investment as well as the past financial performance of the company. In FPOs, the market factors such as past performance of the scrip and prevailing market valuations weigh tremendously on the pricing. The lead managers make an initial assessment of the indicative price at which the issue can sell in the market during the due diligence process. Thereafter, they enter into discussions with market participants such as syndicate members, brokers and institutional investors. They also keep in mind views of analysts who can create an opinion on the issue. Based on a combined assessment, they are in a position to advise the issuer on what could be the clearing price for the issue which after approval by the board of the issuer becomes the issue price (in a fixed price offer) and the floor price (in a book built offer).

Face value of equity shares

- The disclosure about the face value of equity shares shall be made in the draft offer document, offer document, advertisements and application forms, along with the price band or the issue price in identical font size.
- The issuer may determine the price of equity shares, and in case of convertible securities, the coupon rate and the conversion price, in consultation with the lead manager(s) or through the book building process, as the case may be.
- The issuer may offer its specified securities at different prices, subject to the following:
 - a) retail individual investors or retail individual shareholders or employees entitled for reservation made under regulation 33 may be offered specified securities at a price not lower than by more than ten percent of the price at which net offer is made to other categories of applicants, excluding anchor investors;
 - b) in case of a book built issue, the price of the specified securities offered to the anchor investors shall not be lower than the price offered to other applicants;

- c) In case the issuer opts for the alternate method of book building in terms of Part D of Schedule XIII, the issuer may offer the specified securities to its employees at a price not lower than by more than ten percent of the floor price.
- Discount, if any, shall be expressed in rupee terms in the offer document.

Price and Price Band:

- The issuer may mention a price or a price band in the offer document (in case of a fixed price issue) and a floor price or a price band in the red herring prospectus (in case of a book built issue) and determine the price at a later date before filing the prospectus with the Registrar of Companies:
Provided that the prospectus filed with the Registrar of Companies shall contain only one price or the specific coupon rate, as the case may be.
- The cap on the price band, and the coupon rate in case of convertible debt instruments, shall be less than or equal to one hundred and twenty percent of the floor price: Provided that the cap of the price band shall be at least one hundred and five percent of the floor price
- The floor price or the final price shall not be less than the face value of the specified securities.
- Where the issuer opts not to make the disclosure of the floor price or price band in the red herring prospectus, the issuer shall announce the floor price or the price band at least two working days before the opening of the issue in the same newspapers in which the pre-issue advertisement was released or together with the pre-issue advertisement in the format prescribed under the regulations.
- The announcement as referred earlier shall contain relevant financial ratios computed for both upper and lower end of the price band and also a statement drawing attention of the investors to the section titled “basis of issue price” of the offer document.
- The announcement and the relevant financial ratios shall be disclosed on the websites of the stock exchange(s) and shall also be pre-filled in the application forms to be made available on the websites of the stock exchange(s).

Chapter 7: Other Merchant Banking Activities⁴⁸ - Mergers, Acquisitions & Takeovers

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the:

- Role of merchant banker in Mergers, Acquisitions & Takeovers
- Key feature of the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares & Takeovers) Regulations

Merchant bankers are also involved in many other activities, such as providing advisory services regarding mergers and acquisitions divestments, takeovers etc. to corporate houses which may involve a change in ownership of a company or business. In the following sections we will discuss the role of merchant banker in M&A activities, Takeovers, and in the next chapter we shall discuss about buyback of equity shares, delisting of shares, Issue and listing of Debt Securities and Issue of ESOPs.

Mergers, Acquisitions & Takeovers

‘Merger’ is a broader term and it denotes a combination of two or more companies to form a single entity, in which either one or both lose their identity and a new company is formed. When both companies lose their identity, a new company is formed and existing companies’ stocks are surrendered and shares of new company are issued in their place. Merger is not necessarily amongst two equal or comparable stature companies.

An ‘acquisition’ is the purchase of one business or company by another company or other business entity. Consolidation occurs when two companies combine together to form a new enterprise altogether, and neither of the previous companies survives independently. ‘Acquisition’ usually refers to a purchase of a smaller firm by a larger one.

The terms Merger and Acquisition are used synonymously, however, they are slightly different in their meanings. When one company takes over another and clearly establishes itself as the new owner, the purchase is called an acquisition. From a legal point of view, the target company ceases to exist, the buyer "swallows" the business and the buyer's stock continues to be traded.

In the pure sense of the term, a merger happens when two firms agree to go forward as a single new company rather than remain separately owned and operated. This kind of action is more precisely referred to as a "merger of equals". The firms are often of about the same size. Both companies' stocks are surrendered and new company stock is issued in its place. For example, in the 1999 merger of GlaxoWellcome and SmithKline Beecham, both firms ceased to exist when they merged, and a new company, GlaxoSmithKline, was created.

‘Takeover’ is the acquisition of substantial shares or voting rights for the purpose of seeking management control of the company. If management of a prospective selling company is unwilling to negotiate a transaction with a prospective buyer, the buyer may make a direct bid to the seller’s shareholders and purchase seller’s shares from the market to acquire a controlling stake in the seller’s company. The target company may be maintained as a subsidiary or division or dissolved or be merged.

Takeover can be by merger of a solvent acquirer with a sick company for availing the tax benefits, or else it can be acquisition of shares through direct negotiations with one who owns controlling interest or through open offer or market purchase of requisite voting rights to change the management of the company.

Difference between Mergers, Acquisitions and Takeovers

A merger is a mutual decision of two companies to combine and become one entity. The combined business, through structural and operational advantages secured by the merger, can cut costs and increase profits, boosting shareholder values for both groups of shareholders. A takeover, or acquisition, on the other hand, is characterized by the purchase of a smaller company by a much larger one. This combination of "unequals" can produce the same benefits as a merger, but it does not necessarily have to be a mutual decision. A larger company can initiate a hostile takeover of a smaller firm, which essentially amounts to buying the company in the face of resistance from the smaller company's management. Unlike in a merger, in an acquisition, the acquiring firm usually offers a cash price per share to the target firm's shareholders or the acquiring firm's share's to the shareholders of the target firm according to a specified conversion ratio. Either way, the purchasing company essentially finances the purchase of the target company, buying it outright for its shareholders. An example of an acquisition would be how the Walt Disney Corporation bought Pixar Animation Studios in 2006. In this case, the takeover was friendly, as Pixar's shareholders all approved the decision to be acquired.

There is no tangible difference between an acquisition and a takeover; both words can be used interchangeably - the only difference is that each word carries a slightly different connotation. Typically, takeover is used to reference a hostile takeover where the company being acquired is resisting. In contrast, acquisition is frequently used to describe more friendly acquisitions or negotiated acquisition. Takeovers involve change in management control of the target company while acquisitions usually result in change in control when majority stakes are acquired in the target company.

Role of Merchant Banker in Mergers, Acquisitions and Takeovers

In all types of corporate restructuring, the merchant banker performs the pivotal role, acting as a catalyst for the entire deal. However, in transactions involving mergers and acquisitions, the task becomes onerous. In a merger, functions relating to (i) preparation and circulation of information memoranda, (ii) deal structuring & negotiations, (iii) valuation and due diligence are taken care of by one or more merchant bankers, (iv) providing fairness opinion on valuation of assets/shares and (v) certificate on disclosure of unlisted company involved in scheme in the abridged prospectus. Mergers involve statutory compliances and application to the Court/Tribunal. It also involves liaising with accountants, lawyers or company secretaries.

Mergers and Acquisitions in India are regulated by the following legislations and regulators:

1. The Companies Act, 2013
2. The SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011
3. The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999
4. The Reserve Bank of India and the RBI Act, 1934.
5. The Income Tax Act, 1961
6. The Competition Act 2002
7. Master Circular SEBI dated November 23, 2021

Mergers, amalgamations, de-mergers, acquisitions of business units or divisions, are all governed by Companies Act 2013. Any acquisitions of shares or control in listed Indian companies are governed by the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations 2011 (hereafter referred to as the takeover code). The Companies Act and The Takeover Code work in very different ways and impose very different sets of regulations on the merger and/or acquisition process within India. In this section, however, we discuss in detail the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations 2011, and the compliances which are required to be adhered to by the merchant bankers with respect to any other legislation.

In acquisitions and takeovers involving open offers, the merchant banker's role involves managing the public offer and ensuring compliance with the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011. The role of a Merchant Banker in takeovers and substantial acquisition of shares is described in the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011.

SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011

The SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of shares and takeovers) Regulations, 2011 (hereinafter referred as SEBI SAST Regulation) ensure greater transparency, fairness, and equitable treatment to all investors, timeliness and accuracy of disclosure of information, prevention of frivolous offers and enforcement against violations. The major thrust of these Regulations is to ensure that when a large number of shares changes hands, that is, one group sells a substantial or controlling block of shares to another; the minority shareholders also get the opportunity to sell their shares at the fair price. In absence of this Code, an existing group, say A, could sell the controlling stake to another group, say B, and the common shareholders would simply continue to hold the shares without getting the right to participate in the sale that happened.

The Regulations envisage acquisitions for:

- (a) Change in Control of Management
- (b) Consolidation of Holdings

(c) Substantial Acquisition of shares or voting rights

Substantial acquisition of shares or voting rights

As per the SEBI SAST Regulation, an acquirer shall not acquire shares or voting rights in a target company which entitle them (acquirer and persons acting in concert) to exercise 25% or more of the voting rights in the target company unless they have made a public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares of such target company.

No acquirer who together with persons acting in concert with him, has acquired and holds in accordance with the SEBI SAST, shares or voting rights in a target company entitling them to exercise 25% or more of the voting rights in the target company, but less than the maximum permissible non-public shareholding, shall acquire within any financial year additional shares or voting rights in such target company entitling them to exercise more than 5% of the voting rights after making a public announcement of open offer for acquiring shares of such target company.⁴⁹

Further, such acquirer shall not be entitled to acquire or enter into any agreement to acquire shares or voting rights exceeding such number of shares as would take the aggregate shareholding pursuant to the acquisition above the maximum permissible non-public shareholding. Provided further that, acquisition pursuant to a resolution plan approved under section 31 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 shall be exempt from the obligation under the proviso to the sub-regulation (2) of regulation 3. In other words, in such resolution cases, even if the thresholds mentioned in the SAST are exceeded by the acquirer of the distressed company, no open offer obligation arises towards the minority shareholders of such company.

Unless the public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares of the target company is made, no acquirer shall acquire directly or indirectly control over such target company.

For determining the quantum of acquisition of additional voting rights under this sub-regulation, —

(i) gross acquisitions alone shall be taken into account regardless of any intermittent fall in shareholding or voting rights whether owing to disposal of shares held or dilution of voting rights owing to fresh issue of shares by the target company.

(ii) in the case of acquisition of shares by way of issue of new shares by the target company or where the target company has made an issue of new shares in any given financial year, the difference between the pre-allotment and the post-allotment percentage voting rights shall be regarded as the quantum of additional acquisition.

For the purposes of calculating 25% or 5%, acquisition of shares by any person, such that the individual shareholding of such person acquiring shares exceeds the stipulated thresholds, shall ⁴⁹ For the purpose of this regulation, any reference to “twenty-five per cent” in case of listed entity which has listed its specified securities on Innovators Growth Platform shall be read as “forty-nine per cent”. also be attracting the obligation to make an open offer for acquiring shares of the target company irrespective of whether there is a change in the aggregate shareholding with persons acting in concert.

Above mentioned provisions shall not apply to acquisition of shares or voting rights of a company by the promoters or shareholders in control, in terms of the provisions of Schedule XX of SEBI ICDR Regulations.

Voluntary Offer

- (a) An acquirer, who together with persons acting in concert with him, holds shares or voting rights in a target company entitling them to exercise 25% or more but less than the maximum permissible non-public shareholding, shall be entitled to voluntarily make a public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares in accordance with SEBI SAST, provided the shareholding after completion of the open offer does not exceed the maximum permissible non-public shareholding. Further, where the acquirer or any person acting in concert with him has acquired shares of the target company in the preceding 52 weeks without attracting the obligation to make a public announcement of an open offer, he shall not be eligible to voluntarily make a public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares under SAST. In such offer periods, the acquirer shall not be entitled to acquire any shares otherwise than which is under the open offer.
- (b) An acquirer and persons acting in concert with him, who have made a public announcement under this regulation to acquire shares of a target company, shall not be entitled to acquire any shares of the target company for a period of six months after completion of the open offer except pursuant to another voluntary open offer. Further, such restriction shall not prohibit the acquirer from making a competing offer upon any other person making an open offer for acquiring shares of the target company. Shares acquired through bonus issue or stock splits shall not be considered for purposes of the disentitlement set out in this regulation.
- (c) Notwithstanding anything contained in these regulations, no person who is a wilful defaulter shall make a public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares or enter into any transaction that would attract the obligation to make a public announcement of an open offer for acquiring shares under these regulations: Provided that this regulation shall not prohibit the wilful defaulter from making a competing offer in accordance with regulation 20 of these regulations upon any other person making an open offer for acquiring shares of the target company.
- (d) Notwithstanding anything contained in these regulations, no person who is a fugitive economic offender shall make a public announcement of an open offer or make a competing offer for acquiring shares or enter into any transaction, either directly or indirectly, for acquiring any shares or voting rights or control of a target company.

Offer Size

The open offer for acquiring shares to be made by the acquirer and persons acting in concert with him shall be for at least 26% of total shares of the target company, as on 10th working day from the closure of the tendering period. Further, the total shares of the target company as of the 10th working day from the closure of the tendering period shall take into account all potential increases in the number of outstanding shares during the offer period contemplated as of the date of the public announcement. Further the offer size shall be proportionately increased in case of an increase in total number of shares, after the public announcement which is not contemplated on the date of the public announcement.

The open offer shall be for acquisition of at least such number of shares as would entitle the holder thereof to exercise an additional 10% of the voting rights in the target company, and shall not exceed such number of shares as would result in the post-acquisition holding of the acquirer and persons acting in concert with him exceeding the maximum permissible non-public shareholding applicable to such target company. Further, in case of a competing offer being made, the acquirer who has voluntarily made a public announcement of an open offer shall be entitled to increase the number of shares for which the open offer has been made to such number of shares as he deems fit. Such increase in offer size has to be made within a period of 15 working days from the public announcement of a competing offer, failing which the acquirer shall not be entitled to increase the offer size.

Upon an acquirer opting to increase the offer size under as per the above provisions, such open offer shall be deemed to have been made under sub-regulation (2) of regulation 3 (acquisition of five percent voting rights in a financial year) of SAST and the provisions of those regulations shall apply accordingly.

In the event of shares accepted in the open offer were such that the shareholding of the acquirer taken together with persons acting in concert with him pursuant to completion of the open offer results in their shareholding exceeding the maximum permissible non-public shareholding, the acquirer shall be required to bring down the non-public shareholding to the level specified and within the time permitted under SC(R)R, 1957.

The acquirer whose shareholding exceeds the maximum permissible non-public shareholding, pursuant to an open offer under these regulations shall not be eligible to make a voluntary delisting offer under the SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021 unless a period of 12 months has elapsed from the date of the completion of the offer period.

Any open offer made under these regulations shall be made to all shareholders of the target company, other than the acquirer, persons acting in concert with him and the parties to any underlying agreement including persons deemed to be acting in concert with such parties, for the sale of shares of the target company.

Provided that if the open offer has been made by an acquirer under sub-regulation (1) of regulation 3, regulation 4 or regulation 5 of SAST and the acquirer has stated upfront his intention to retain the listing of the target company in the public announcement and the detailed public statement issued pursuant to an open offer in accordance with these regulations, the acquirer may alternatively undertake a proportionate reduction of the shares or voting rights to be acquired pursuant to the underlying agreement for acquisition/ subscription of shares or voting rights and the purchase of shares so tendered, upon the completion of the open offer process such that the resulting shareholding of the acquirer in the target company does not exceed the maximum permissible non-public shareholding prescribed under the Securities SC(R)R, 1957. Provided further that in case of a preferential allotment pursuant to a Share Subscription Agreement which may trigger an open offer as envisaged in the above proviso, the Board Resolution and shareholder resolution shall be appropriately worded, so as to include the effective date of allocation/allotment and the quantum thereof. Notwithstanding anything contained in regulation 170 of the SC(R)R, 1957, in case of undertaking a scale down of subscription of shares or voting rights from the agreement, the period of fifteen days for allotment of shares shall be counted from the date of the closure of the tendering period for the open offer.

Subject to regulation 5A, the acquirer whose shareholding exceeds the maximum permissible non-public shareholding, pursuant to an open offer under these regulations, shall not be eligible to make a voluntary delisting offer under the Delisting Regulations, unless a period of twelve months has elapsed from the date of the completion of the offer period.

The acquirer shall complete payment of consideration whether in the form of cash, or as the case may be, by issue, exchange or transfer of securities, to all shareholders who have tendered shares in acceptance of the open offer, within ten working days of the expiry of the tendering period.

(2A) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-regulation (1), an acquirer may acquire shares of the target company through preferential issue or through the stock exchange settlement process, other than through bulk deals or block deals, subject to, -

- (i) such shares being kept in an escrow account,

Chapter 8: Other Merchant Banking Activities - Disinvestment, Buyback of Equity Shares

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

After studying this chapter, you should know about the role of Merchant Banker in:

- Disinvestment transactions
- Buyback of shares and delisting of shares
- Issue and listing of debt issues
- Share based employee benefits

Disinvestment

Disinvestment means the direct or indirect sale by the Central Government or any State Government or by a government company, as the case may be, of shares or voting rights in, or control over, a target company, which is a public sector undertaking. Transactions related to Government entities can be either a disinvestment transaction or an advisory transaction.

Disinvestment transactions are generally of two types:

- (1) An offer for sale by the selling shareholder (in this case the Government of India) through the prospectus- at times this could be a combination of a fresh issue and an offer for sale; or Offer for Sale through the Stock Exchange Mechanism; or
- (2) Strategic sale directly to a successful bidder

Role of Merchant Banker in Disinvestment Transactions

The role of a Merchant Banker in Disinvestment transactions is similar to the transactions of any IPO / FPO / OFS (SE) or a strategic sale in the private sector. Merchant bankers may be required to provide their services in disinvestment decisions of the government. The concerned department for this activity in the Central Government is the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) within the Ministry of Finance. The services can be in the area of advice with regard to bidding process, valuation and bid pricing, conducting the bid process or the proposed market transaction such as an OFS as per SEBI Regulations or a strategic sale to an identified third party.

Apart from strategic disinvestments, advisory transactions for a Government entity could be for a bonus issue or a buy-back or any other advisory transaction. In such cases also, the role of a Merchant Banker is similar to the transactions of advisory nature for any entity in the private sector. If a Merchant Banker has been mandated to provide advisory services to any Government entity then DPE guidelines issued by the Department of Public Enterprises, have to be kept in mind.

However, there are certain guidelines issued by the Department of Public Enterprises (DPE) which are available at http://dpe.nic.in/important_links/dpe_guidelines.

In order to review the performance of the PSU, a composite score based on its performance for the last three years would be calculated. For calculation of composite score, 6 performance indicators have been identified based on their general applicability to the PSUs. The performance indicators have been chosen so as to capture the performance of PSUs irrespective of their belonging to manufacturing sector or services sector. The 6 identified performance indicators are:
